10.30am – 3.30pm, Saturday 27 May 2017 - Friends House, 173-177 Euston Rd, NW1 2BJ

10.00	Arrival, hot drinks and breakfast
10.30	Welcome, get to know each other activity and update on Big Local Matt Leach, chief executive, Local Trust
11.20	Move to workshops
11.30	Leaving a legacy What might leaving a legacy mean for your Big Local area? SO18 Big Local have been exploring this, and considering the variety of ways they can make a lasting difference. Find out what the partnership has done and what they've learnt along the way, and join in a conversation to share your own ideas and thinking about what legacy means to you. SO18 Big Local	How to partner with your local housing association Many social landlords now have aims in common with Big Local and are investing in supporting communities. Southern Housing Group's community investment programme helps tenants access training and jobs, providing digital skills, financial advice and supporting people into work. Get ideas for working with your housing association. Southern Housing Group	Using data for your Big Local plan Data about Big Local areas comes in many different forms. We'll discuss how data can be used to help with planning and reviewing your activities, offering practical tips about what you can and can't do with different types of data. Find out about a Big Local area's experiences of involving community researchers as part of Big Local. School for Public Health Research (SPHR)
	Bringing the generations together through the arts Magic Me is an arts charity that brings different generations together through shared, creative activities. Young people aged 8+ and adults aged 60+ meet in schools, museums, care homes, and cultural spaces to take part in activities which stimulate conversation and an exchange of ideas. This session will help you think creatively about opportunities for older people in your area. Magic Me	Dispute and conflict resolution We know people don't always agree and that it's normal for groups to argue. But it's not always easy to resolve issues and move on! Big Local areas will soon be able to access support from a specialist organisation working nationally. Learn tools and techniques for dealing with disputes and conflict and find out about the support available. Local Trust	Resurrecting the community hub Barnfield's community hub was burnt down years ago and replacing it was the community's top priority. The site has been cleared and a new hub set up using Big Local funding. There are many activities now enjoyed daily in the hub, which works out of a portakabin on the estate. It is paving the way to the area's ambitions for a permanent community centre. Barnfield Big Local

12.15	Lunch
1.15	Harnessing the power of others Do you approach every project with the expectation that you will receive match funding at the very least – and that you could even get the project off the ground without any cost? Does this mean thinking outside the box, or is it about a mindset – are you confident that people are going to help you? Join this session to exchange ideas about getting and using match funding and support from others. Riverside Community Big Local	Fun Palaces: everyone an artist, everyone a scientist In October every year, 1000s of people across the country make Fun Palaces. Some big, some tiny, all of them an opportunity to celebrate the skills and passions of local communities. They give everyone, of all ages a chance to try out something new, from arts and sciences to craft and tec. Find out how to make one happen! Fun Palaces	How to tell if you're making a difference: measuring the impact Find out about tools and techniques that can help you understand whether the activities you are supporting are making a difference in your area, and how to use these findings to tell your story to others. Hear about recent research which explored and measured the impact, achievements and learning so far in 20 Big Local areas. Resources for Change
	Getting your voice heard Does your project have the profile you would like? Do you have strong relationships with local decision-makers? Are there things taking place locally that you'd like to change? This workshop, led by campaign specialists the Sheila McKechnie Foundation, will address all of these questions and help grow your project's voice, influence and power. Sheila McKechnie Foundation	Learn a new technique for problem solving Action learning is an approach to solving real problems using both thinking and action. It is a highly structured process based on asking open questions that helps you to explore new ideas. Normally organised for a group of people over several meetings – come for a taster of this method to tackling challenges. Local Trust	Balloon orchestra workshop Be ready to explore and try new things and join the balloon orchestra! In a short space of time you'll work together using balloons as a source of sound (and fun!) and use your imagination to create short rhythms and compositions. Sergio Lopez Figueroa

2.15	Facts, feelings and influential findings Local people feel the effects of local policy and planning every day, from how long it takes to get to the bus stop, to how frequently fly tipping is cleared. Personal and emotional responses to such experiences are often overlooked by planners. In Whitley, community researchers are uncovering these experiences and turning them into influential facts and findings through participatory action research. Join this session to find out more and see if you could do something similar in your area. Whitley Big Local	Speaker to be confirmed! More information coming soon	Finding new ways to involve volunteers Spice is the largest agency time banking organisation in the UK, facilitating a time-based currency called Time Credits. Come and learn how Spice works with local charitable organisations, public services and community groups to devise new opportunities for people to volunteer, get involved locally, and be recognised for the time they contribute. Spice
	Communities managing land Communities across the country are increasingly taking responsibility for managing local parks and woodlands, and regenerating derelict land. This session gives you the chance to explore community-led management of land: how to go about it and what the possibilities are. Shared Assets	Dispute and conflict resolution We know people don't always agree and that it's normal for groups to argue. But it's not always easy to resolve issues and move on! Big Local areas will soon be able to access support from a specialist organisation working nationally. Learn tools and techniques for dealing with disputes and conflict and find out about the support available. Local Trust	Humming in harmony Take part in this group activity which uses humming and mindfulness to improve physical and mental health and wellbeing. You'll focus on sound, listening and breathing to develop a greater awareness of yourself and your environment, and experience co-creating a live soundscape. Sergio Lopez Figueroa
3.00	Afternoon tea and cakes
3.15	What next?
3.30	Close
